Free.Q: Make a div without border I have something like this in my CSS file : `.pure.input-box{ width: 120px; margin: 0px auto; border: 1px solid #ff0000; }` When I run the page, the div with the `.input-box` class has a 1px solid red border on the left and right. So I want to get rid of this border. A: Use `border-box` as `padding-box` instead of border. The border-box box model, defines how the width and height of a box is affected by padding and border. The box model itself defines the width and height of a box without any padding or border included.

CSS3 Multi-Column Layout: The box-sizing property controls the way in which padding and border are added around elements. There are three possible values for box-sizing: content-box, padding-box and border-box. 3e33713323
