The project took me about a month to complete. Just when I thought it was just a matter of choosing a direction and following it, I started finding new references that added a new perspective, new ideas and a fresh ground. I started photographing actors for this project. It was a very interesting experience in a completely different, and sometimes quite surprising way. The project was a first step in my experimentations with Maya, which is the 3D animation tool I've chosen after some testing. It's not yet a final project, but it is the starting point I needed to open in other directions. Thanks for sharing your time with me! It's always a pleasure for me to do some new updates in this column. If you have any feedback or suggestions, feel free to leave them in the comments section. Until the next time...
