Women's Golf Women's Golf Given 10 Shots At Future NCAA Championships June 25, 2003 Brooklyn, NY – The UB women's golf team has been given 10 tournament shot at this week's NCAAs in New Haven, Conn. The 13-member team will have its first chance to qualify for the NCAA championships next Thursday and Friday when the eighth-ranked Panthers travel to Yale. UB will play either No. 4 Duke or No. 5 Georgia Tech on Thursday at 1 p.m. (ET). The second and third rounds will be played on Friday. In winning the Atlantic Sun Conference

Championship last month in Atlanta, Ga., UB earned its first automatic qualification to the NCAA championships. Siena's runner-up finish secured one of the most difficult NCAA play-in games that will be featured at the championships. The New Haven tournament will also feature six automatic qualifiers from
